MAKE REPLY TO THE ADVOCATE

Churchman to Come Out What the Herald Says.

Two or three of the religious papers of the city will go in this week for a discussion of the letter published last week in the Christian Advocate by the Rev. J. H. Light, of Lexington, who asserted that the State institutions of learning are practically under Episcopal control.

The Southern Churchman will make an indignant reply to the statement. The Religious Herald will also have an editorial. It will say in part:

"It is true that Episcopalians abound in the faculties and boards of control of State schools, out of all proportion to their relative numerical strength in the State. In the faculty of the University of Virginia the Baptists have but one representative—a host in himself, though the Methodists two, we think, and the Disciples one. Of Episcopalians there are not a few. The situation in the Virginia Military Institute is yet more peculiar in this respect. We know that for every Baptist or Methodist found on the boards of control of State schools may be found three Episcopalians. These are facts, we judge; what is their explanation?"

"First of all, the influence of tradition. A little over one hundred years ago all the officers of the State were Episcopalians, and the burning question was whether the other folks had any rights or privileges worth noting. It must be frankly admitted that until within the past half-century Baptists and Methodists were not educating their laymen to any great extent."

"The Baptists and Methodists are waking up to the importance of education, and are investing more money in educational institutions than any other religious bodies. But it will remain true that education is more general among Episcopalians and Presbyterians than among Baptists or Methodists. It must be further noted that while Baptists and Methodists have been busy at work for more than a half century building up their own schools, Episcopalians have concentrated their attention on the State schools. We have no right to incriminate the Methodists, but we do deliberately charge the Baptists with neglect of the State schools."

"For our own part, we are frank to say that, in the choice of professors for our State schools, and of boards for their management, the matter of denominational alignment ought not to be the object, as it ought to be mentioned in religious politics. But it will remain true that the best man available? That is the question. If he is, put him in. We do not say that any other motive has controlled our governors in naming boards of visitors, or these boards in electing professors."

ROYAL ITALIAN BAND

Will Appear Here April 9th—Edouard de Reszke May Possibly Come.

That there has been a dearth of musical attractions here this season is an admitted fact. The failure of the Metropolitan Orchestra at the beginning of a season brought a long trail of disappointment for the concertgoers arranged were decidedly above the average. The season will end in a blaze of glory nevertheless.

The Royal Italian Band is booked to appear at the Academy April 8th. The celebration of the tenth anniversary of the death of the late Emperor William on the 15th and 20th. It is possible that the band of the Metropolitan Orchestra may yet be heard here on May 4th, and four days later Victor Herbert and the famous Pittsburgh Orchestra will be at the same house.

DIED FROM BURNS

Funeral of Little Elsie Hobson Took Place Yesterday Afternoon.

As the result of burns Little Elsie Hobson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hobson, of No. 515 North Thirty-second Street, died about 1 o'clock yesterday morning, and the funeral was held from her home at 8:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The interment was in Oakwood.

The child, with others, was playing around a fire in the front yard, when a sudden gust of wind caused the flames to be blown into the house.

JAWBONE DISLOCATED

Mr. Owen Yawnd and a Surgeon Had to Attend Him.

Mr. A. S. Owen, of No. 418 South Laurel Street, whose jawbone was dislocated through yawning, is all right. He received prompt surgical treatment and the dislocation was set after but a short while of discomfort.

Endorse Mr. Mullen.

At the last meeting of the Trade and Labor Council Secretary Mullen was endorsed for appointment as State organizer for the American Federation of Labor.

A large number of delegates representing the various unions were seated. They represented the plumbers, tobacco workers, stage employees, iron workers, electrical workers and painters and paperhangers.

THE DEATH OF MR. JONES

Very Popular Politician and Good Citizen Is Gone.

WELL KNOWN IN RICHMOND

Had Many Friends, and Few Enemies. Long Time a Justice of the Peace. Funeral from the Soldiers' Home To-Day.

Mr. Frank P. Jones died at the Soldiers' Home at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

The case is one of the saddest and one of the most pathetic that has had to be recorded in a long while.

He leaves a widow and four children, almost penniless. They reside in the second story of the building at No. 236 South Fifth Street. The youngest child is only two years old. The eldest, a son, by Mr. Jones' first marriage, is not over twelve or thirteen.

"Squire Jones, who was widely known as 'Sugar-Bottom' Jones, had about as many friends as anyone in Richmond. He was widely known in the city, and, for that matter, had friends in all parts of the State."

When the name of "Sugar-Bottom" was given to him it was not done in an unfriendly manner, but it was first given by one of the very best friends Mr. Jones ever had. He rather enjoyed it.

AN UNIQUE CHARACTER. That Mr. Jones was an unique character, all who knew him will admit.

'SQUIRE FRANK P. JONES.

He was the very soul of honor. He loved his fellow men, and he loved his country. He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage.

He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage. He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage.

He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage. He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage.

He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage. He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage.

He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage. He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage.

He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage. He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage.

He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage. He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage.

He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage. He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage.

He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage. He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage.

He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage. He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage.

He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage. He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage.

He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage. He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage.

He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage. He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage.

He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage. He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage.

He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage. He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage.

He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage. He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage.

He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage. He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage.

He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage. He was a man of great integrity, and he was a man of great courage.

HAVE YOUR SHIRTS MADE

Let us make your shirts to order. They will fit better, wear better, and be more satisfactory in every way! You would be surprised to know how many of the best dressed men in this vicinity are wearing our made-to-order shirts. They say they are more comfortable in them. We have been making the shirts of many of Richmond's best dressers since 1880.

We are the only manufacturers in the South carrying a complete line of Foreign and Domestic Shirts—made into shirts or sold by the yard.

CHICKENS NEVER SO SCARCE AS NOW

Very Few in Market and Selling High—Florida Tomatoes Here.

The scarcity of chickens on the Richmond market is pronounced. The commission merchants are getting very few and the prices are up. "Almost everything to eat is scarce," said a commission merchant yesterday evening at closing time, when he looked around upon the empty barrels, boxes and crates, in his store, "except butter," he added presently. "Butter and oleomargarine have killed the sale of chickens. These who thought the new law would help the farmer and put an end to the sale of oleomargarine have learned that the measure has had almost the opposite effect."

Eggs are coming in fairly large quantities and are selling at wholesale at 18 cents. But few dressed and live turkeys are on the market, and they are selling well. Butter is here in any quantities and all grades. Southern truck farm products are beginning to come in. The commission merchants are getting many crates of tomatoes from Florida, and they are fine specimens. They are also getting a number of crates of Florida tomatoes, which are of large size and excellent quality.

CHICKENS ON THE STAGE A Flock of Them Will Appear in "The Hoosier" at the Academy.

One of the features of the performance of "The Hoosier" at the Academy on next Monday night will be the introduction on the stage of a flock of chickens in the farm scene. These chickens have been trained and know their parts perfectly.

There is no place since "Way Down East" that has carried the audience with it to the extent of "The Hoosier." A country boy loves a city girl, but his rustic ways displease her father, and he goes to the city to get cultivated. When he calls upon his lady love at his rustic city home, however, all the rusticity has worn off, and he is a polished young man.

There are the heavy villains, the country folks and the society people, put together in a plot that touches the sympathies of the audience, and holds attention to the fall of the curtain.

Mr. Melville Daniels plays the part of "Salem Towne," the country boy who goes to the city to get his manners polished up, and Miss Hassan takes the part of "Daisy Beckwith," his sweetheart.

The low comedy work by Mr. T. W. Evans, as "Shad Kershaw," is full of humor and some pathos.

Some songs and dances will be introduced by Miss Hassan and Mr. Daniels. The show on sale at the Academy tomorrow.

TEMPERANCE WORK IN HANOVER COUNTY (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

POLE GREEN, February 12.—The Winn W. C. T. U. met Monday at the home of Mrs. Bates and selected officers as follows:

Recording Secretary, Miss Julia Horne; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Lillie Fiehlman; Treasurer, Miss Grace Quarles; President, Miss Nellie Bates; Vice-President, Mrs. T. S. Garrett.

There will be a party at the hospital and attractive home of Mrs. Pickerson on Friday evening, for the purpose of strengthening the temperance work in the county. The programme will be very attractive, and it is hoped there will be large attendance. Some of the State officers will hold a meeting at Shady Grove Church Saturday to form a county organization for temperance work.

FAIR PRISONER ESCAPES IN GUISE OF A NURSE (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NEW YORK, February 11.—In the disguise of a nurse, secured through the connivance of the hospital authorities, the mysterious girl known as Mabel Gilbert, who was taken to the Long Island College Hospital at 3 o'clock Monday morning suffering from loss of memory, had escaped the hospital and was on guard last night and made her escape.

Neither her real name nor her whereabouts is known to the police, and the mystery which envelops her case is deeper than ever.

The action of the hospital authorities is severely criticized by the police, and an investigation will be demanded by Police Captain Tuley of Brooklyn, who has charge of the case.

THE DREWRY BLUFF CASE

The Decree Handed Down by Judge Minor Yesterday.

CONVERT IT INTO A PARK

Likely that Work Will Begin Before Very Long—Verdict Against a Railroad. Negro Gets Five Years for Housebreaking.

Judge Minor yesterday morning handed down his decree in the suit for the possession of Drewry's Bluff, which was recently on trial in the Law and Equity Court, when a verdict in favor of James Bellwood, a director of the Richmond and Petersburg Railroad, and against John C. Short and Ferdinand Beach, of New York, was rendered.

After going into the legal phases of the famous suit, the decree goes on to recite as follows:

"And the court doth adjudge, order and decree that each and every defendant in this cause be forever barred and enjoined from asserting any claim or demand whatever upon or against the property described in the bill as Drewry's Bluff or Madill's property."

"And it is further ordered, adjudged and decreed that the defendants, John C. Short and Ferdinand Beach, pay to the plaintiff his costs in this suit, and he is hereby authorized to deduct from the said $10,000 and interest the amount which the clerk shall tax as his costs."

But the defendants, announcing their intention to apply for an appeal from this decree, notice of which order is accepted by the said plaintiff, the operation of the same is hereby suspended for ninety days."

Thus it will be seen that the suit for the historical place of land has resulted in an absolute victory for the Richmond and Petersburg line. It has been announced that the Virginia Passenger and Power Company, which recently acquired controlling interest in the first named company, intend to improve Drewry's Bluff for park purposes. Work will shortly be undertaken, and by this summer the historic old spot promises to attract thousands of pleasure seekers and sightseers.

The jury in the suit of Edward J. Willis against the Pennsylvania Railroad returned a verdict yesterday in the Law and Equity Court for $300 damages. However, a demurrer to the evidence having been filed, Judge Minor has not yet approved the finding of the jury, and this morning argument on the demurrer will be heard.

An interesting suit will go on trial in the City Circuit Court this morning when the suit of J. A. Graber against B. St. Clair Butler for $2500 is called. The plaintiff is suing for damages done to a building belonging to him and located on Twenty-third Street near Franklin. He alleged that Mr. Butler, who owned property adjoining, tore away an old shack for the purpose of erecting a tobacco factory. He failed to notify the plaintiff, it is charged, as a result of which much damage was done to his holdings, the wall and roof being seriously impaired. Mr. George Bryan represents the plaintiff.

William Brown, alias "Kneebone," accused of housebreaking, was convicted in the Hustings Court yesterday and sentenced to a term of five years in the penitentiary. Having been once before convicted of a felony, "Kneebone" will receive an additional sentence of five years, making the total time in the pen on this trip ten years.

"Kneebone" was arrested for breaking into the store and dwelling of an Italian on East Main Street about two months ago. He was caught in the act, but fled to arrest or detention, as a result of which the foreigner was badly carved up by a knife in the hands of the negro. He escaped and was later arrested. At the trial yesterday the negro was positively identified.

In the absence of Judge Witt, who is still ill, Judge Ingram, of the Corporation Court of Manchester, is presiding this week over the Hustings Court.

Judge Barksdale Better. Judge W. B. Barksdale, of Halifax, who was operated on several days ago at one of the hospitals, is getting on very nicely, and will likely be out in a few days.

Judge Witt's Condition. Judge Witt will be able to leave the Virginia Hospital within the next few days. His condition continues to rapidly improve.
